

Wide Screen Minutes

October 13, 2003

Brief disclaimer: I am listening to Mitch Hedberg while I write this so I may insert a joke that was not on my list...in a moment...of spontaneity...that you will not be able to detect...

The Hitchcock Former Russian Monarch Welfare Department has expanded to offer meaningful work to two more deposed autocrats. Ted and Margaret will be fetching condoms for the House. It may be time to update the armadillo emblazoned on our t-shirts. Focus groups will decide how we can attract more foreign investment and appear "hip" to the younger demographics. If you have any ideas or images for the new shirts, present a portfolio to Lia by November 9. John has solved the table tent situation: Ted will be coming around and disconnecting your showers over the next few days. John is also taking care of Joe's facial hair per campaign promise. Send your suggestions. The Neofuturist show on Saturday was a success and will be repeated.

In observance of Reformation Sunday, there will be some Secret Stalin goings on about the dorm. On Tuesday or Wednesday, people will be receiving small gifts and on Friday they will be sent to Siberia. Section 4 is being repopulated now that the epidemics have passed. How is it being repopulated? Survey Says... we will be playing Section Feud. Get ready.

This Halloween will be Halloween, so everyone should show up for the Halloween festivities. Watch for posters and sign-up for volunteering.

Sebastian needs the following items; don't ask why:

1. Big Red Hat
2. Red shoes
3. Red socks
4. Red pants
5. Small blue hat
6. Blue gloves

"Rummy" Karfunkel would like to bring back Ping-Pong to Snell-Hitchcock. Is this a facilities question? house? endowment? personally financed? Talk to your member-at-larges (members at large) and constitutional scholars. The House approved $15.48 for the fancy marbled phone lists and will be given a receipt...to keep in the file...under 'P'.

If anyone knows Reike or other healing arts, you can take a few practice shots on Kayo's migraine.

"Minutes Adjourned"

"Hour"

*Rejoice in the way things are.
When you realize there is nothing lacking,
the whole world belongs to you.*

-Tao Te Ching, ch. 44