

Break Out Those Winter Coats
The week before Thanksgiving, what happened in it, and why you are sports

The week before Thanksgiving is indeed 8th week. In the Hitchcock house meeting, many things happened, mainly announcements, revelry, and eating. The combination of these three things is essential to any meeting, and lack of them would cause chaos and disorder.

Despite the fact that we must move out on Saturday December 10th, there is still much left to do. There will be a Co-op supermarket run on Wednesday night so people can stock up on food for the holiday weekend. On January 12th, at 9:30 pm, the 2nd Thursday of winter quarter, we will have a talk coordinated by the Condom Czars. Records show there was a great turnout for the Snell-sponsored SCC talk on Sunday, and there is hope that this will be recreated for the Hitchcock talk (Robin, 2005). Brownie grapes may have been the draw, but Momma Guyton's chex mix/cookies were more unique. This logically infers that the 10th Week Ultimate Dance Show will go over well, for a buck or less, during reading period, with lots of residents dancing in it. It is important to note that the Living Room Cafe was selected as potential partner for the Hitchcock community service project.

Therefore, Sam is stuck in China, again, while Hagrid and Steve urge people to leave the dorm despite the newfound cold. Cabin fever has been known to set in when people decide to curl up in bed and not face the windy city. While Section V is the "Achilles of the sections" (section news, Caro, 1745), other Sections have little to report, besides a "Waste Land" criticism, but that has been lost to time (MJ, section love, 3987 BCE).

One might now raise an objection, as the topic of Bartlett does not seem to fit into announcements, revelry, or eating. However, the man in the shiny pants on the mural says, "To the Glory of Manly Sports". In Chicago, this implies that eating will take place in an old gym, and hence, Bartlett falls under the category of "eating". There is more nutritional info on the website, and up to the 23rd people may purchase entire pies. Thursdays will be deep-dish-pizza day, and the vegan cookies have been restocked. Juice prices have risen, which will prove good for the juice investors. The finals week study break will be a brownie and sundae study break. This is generally considered to be good, except for those who hate chocolate, ice cream, or sugar.

In conclusion, Pearl + Danny = true love.

Mr. Shaw - I'm really sorry I forgot to turn in a paper last week. It won't happen again!
